Dear Colleagues and Friends,

The warm hues of autumn are here and amidst the standing aura of the foothills of the Himalayas, the peaking Kanchenjunga, it is our pleasure to announce the 21st Annual IAPM State Conference (West Bengal Chapter) being held at North Bengal Medical College, Sushrutanagar, Darjeeling from 6th to 8th September, 2013.

We are quite privileged to have many erudite scholars from different parts of our country to deliver their speeches that will enlighten our knowledge on the ever changing field of medical science (especially pathology and allied subjects). To add a feather on the crown we have whole day parallel workshops on PCR technique with HLA Typing, Immunofluorescence and Dermatopathology. There will be interactive sessions, competitive sessions and many more.

While you honour the programme with your gracious presence, let us also herald you to Siliguri, the gateway to nature's cradle of bountiful North Bengal and North-East India. The mesmerizing slopes of Darjeeling, Kalimpong, Mirik, Gangtok; the forest of Dooars with its varied wild-life; the meandering Mahananda, Balason, Teesta, Murti and Jaldhaka rivers that shape the geography around and leave the onlookers spellbound. With many such locations almost at your doorstep, may your stay be enjoyable and fruitful.

We would like to take this opportunity to make this conference a portal of learning and a conglomeration of the past, present and the future knowledge.

Yours Sincerely

Prof.(Dr.) Amita Majumdar (Giri)
Organising Chairperson, IAPM State Conference
West Bengal Chapter, 2013
